Welcome to the Public Library at Tellico Village

Let's take a brief tour of our Library. The first thing you will notice is the landscaping planted by the Kiwanis Club. In the vestibule, you'll see the "Giving Tree" created by the Wood Working Club and filled with leaves donated by our patrons.

As you enter, you will be greeted by a volunteer working behind the desk. Glance at the computer room to your right and you might find a member of the Computer Club monitoring and updating our many computers which are available for your use.

You'll probably walk past the cases containing CDs, also built by our Woodworkers. Back in the stacks is a beautiful stained glass window built and donated by our Stained Glass Club. Don't miss the quilt designed by our Village Quilters. You might also find various magazine subscriptions provided by individuals and companies.

Be sure to check out the courtyard where we show free movies during the summer months and where you will find Bricks dedicated to many of our Village friends. You might even discover the courtyard being readied for a private party which has rented the facility. It makes a great place for a family reunion too!

Stop by our Children's section and familiarize yourself with what's available for your children or grandchildren. On certain mornings, you may see a child reading with one of our HABILIT dogs.

If you come on a Saturday morning during the summer months, you'll find groups of children enjoying our Summer Reading Program. Say "hello" to the many volunteers who are leading this program.

You'll probably notice our Conference room. This is where we conduct lectures, classes, Author Meet-and-Greets, and host community organizations.

Of course, none of this would be possible without the hard work and dedication of the FRIENDS OF THE TELLICO VILLAGE LIBRARY. They planned, built, financed, and to this day, oversee the running of this remarkable facility. Our volunteers are, in fact, the continuous thread throughout this tour. Visit our Website at TVLibrary.org or on Facebook.com/ThePublicLibraryAtTellicoVillage.

We'd love to have you as a FRIEND!
